A Greenville Murder Case-A Proposed

Cotton Exchange-Gives Great Satisfaction. epondence of the Richmond Dispatch.

Ретеквично, Sept. 20, 1887. A letter just received here states that the Board of Supervisors of Sussex county have determined to contest the validity of the subscription made by that county to the Atlantic and Danwhich was about $120,000. The county of Greenville took similar action nearly a year ago, but no results have been yet arrived at by the courts. It is understood that the Sussex authorities have retained ex-Governor William E. Cameron and Messrs. George S. Bernard and William B. McIlwaine as their counsel. The Greenville case will come before Judge Hancock at the next term of his Circuit Court in this city, and will be watched with a great deal of interest, especially by the peo-ple of the two counties of Greenville and Sussex. There is a negro prisoner in the jail bere awaiting trial for murder in the county of Greenville. His name is help and rest next week. Granville Watson, and the charge is that of deliberately shooting and killing a negro at Bellfield-full particu lars of which were published in the Dispatch at the time. Watson has been kept in the jail here for fear that he would not be safe in the jail at Hicksford, his crime having eaused ; great deal of feeling among the friends of the murdered man. He will be tried before Judge Hancock at the next term of the Circuit Court of that

Fortunately for us, as for all mankind as well, Sunday comes every seventh day to give us time to pause and think of our higher nature. We have been singularly happy in having had among us during the entire season a succession of talented clergymen of every denomination. At one time there were eight here, and the oppor tunity has been exceptionally good of hearing a variety of styles and of breaking down the narrow sectarian spirit. 'A collection was started during the summer to fee the man who acted as sexton, but it was so in excess of the need that the remainder has been expended in a large, elegantly-bound pulpit Bible, with the inscription in large gilt letters on the back: "Rockbridge Alum Springs—from the guests; bridge Alum Springs—from the guests; 1887.
